Kathrina joined Vantage in 2010, and as the Director of Finance and HR, not only is she responsible for the firm's finances - from budgeting and accounts payable to invoicing and collections – she also handles the firm's human resources – from recruitment and onboarding, to payroll and benefits. Kathrina oversees one of the best administrative teams around, and she enjoys working closely with customers to secure contracts and track the progress of ongoing projects.

Prior to Vantage, Kathrina worked as a project manager in a variety of industries, including Theatre, Law, and Film. She earned her B.A. in Communications from DePauw University.

After living in both New York and Los Angeles, Kathrina is happy to be back in the Midwest. She currently lives in the suburbs of Chicago with her family, and spends most of her free time trying to keep up with her two young girls. She also loves to sing, and can often be heard belting out a song at the Vantage Holiday parties or whenever the mood strikes her.

“Character is doing the right thing when nobody is looking.”
