A Canadian who came to Chicago by way of London, this is Lees' first job in America. After joining the firm in 2011 as the receptionist, she quickly transitioned to supporting one of the firm's partners, Mike Tobin, and his accounts full time. Because Lees has always had an interest in good design and telling effective stories, she began taking on more and more of Vantage's marketing. This led to a new role in the firm in 2016, and she now is focused on the firm's marketing full-time.

Lees has a certificate in Marketing Strategy from Cornell University and her Bachelor's degree in Cultural Studies from McGill University in Montreal. She's originally from a small town on Vancouver Island.

When not helping the team at Vantage, Lees enjoys reading novels, writing short stories, and exploring her most recently adopted city.

“Strive not to be a success, but rather to be of value.”
